AC Installation & Maintenance:

Your air conditioning system is a major investment, and it works hard all the time. Improper service and lack of maintenance result in increased energy use and utility bills, reduced occupant comfort. Air Conditioning can account for a third of annual electricity costs for an individual business. Poorly maintained systems can use up to 60% more energy. Regular service and maintenance of your air conditioning keeps it running for longer and at peak efficiency

Safa Anabiya Technical Services LLC offers a vast choice of ac installation, services and maintenance suitable for residential, commercial, industrial and corporate clients. Our Air Conditioning Services cover installation of all types of air conditioner from one small single split system to large multi VRF/VRV system. We provide HVAC solutions that allow modular fleet of air conditioners, air handlers, ducting and ancillaries that meet your specific needs. Technologically advanced tools and equipment are used for rendering these services effectively and efficient

Plumbing & Sanitary Installation:

The plumbing and sanitary system is an important part of every building. So this system requires professional plumbing and sanitary services as it takes care of the hygiene demands of the residents. According to some reports about 8% of the construction cost of any building is considered for plumbing and sanitary systems. Plumbers and sanitary services consist of installation, maintenance, repair, and servicing of plumbing fixtures and fittings. Besides having a deep understanding of the system our team members have effective communication skills and are result-oriented workers with a professional attitude.
